655 School Volunteers

I. Purpose

Volunteers are a valuable resource to the schools in assisting with and/or enhancing the educational experience for our students. They are an important and welcome part of the educational process.

II. General Statement of Policy

School sites and their programs are responsible for the recruitment and placement of volunteers. The school principal or program director must approve all regular volunteers and their assignments.

School volunteers are expected to meet the same high standards of conduct as school staff in their interactions with students and adults in the schools, which includes background checks as appropriate. It shall be the principal's or director's responsibility to monitor all volunteers and to assess their effectiveness. The principal or director may shift or discontinue a volunteer when, in their opinion, the volunteer is not contributing positively to the educational experience of students.
